Individuals, organizations and communities across not only Oklahoma, but also the United States, participate in a multitude of prevention and awareness activities in an effort to ensure all children are safe, nurtured and experience great childhoods.

Prevention Track offered by OSDH

The Family Support and Prevention Service will collaborate with the Center on Child Abuse and Neglect (OUHSC) once again to bring trending prevention topics to participants. An all-day Institute will be available extending the conference to a third day on Friday, April 20.
